

Additional Lecture and Reading Notes

Lecture 1g

From time to time, I will add theorems that are not in the text. Or, more often, statements that are simply not stated as theorems in the text. I will “number” these theorems with letters, so that they do not interfere with the numbering system in the textbook.